BY ALICE CAREY.

I think there are some maxims
Under the sun,
Scarce worth preservation;
But here, boys, is one
So sound and so simple
'Tis worth while to know:
And all in a single line,
"Hoe your own row!"

If you want to have riches,
And want to have friends,
Don't trample the means down
And look for the ends;
But always remember
Wherever you go,
The wisdom of practicing,
"Hoe your own row!"

Don't just sit and pray
For increase of your store;
But work; who will help himself,
Heaven helps more.
The weeds while your sleeping
Will come up and grow,
But if you would have the
Full ear, you must hoe!

Nor will it do only
To hoe out the weeds,
You must make your ground mellow
And put in the seeds;
And when the young blade
Pushes through, you must know
There is nothing will strengthen
Its growth like the hoe!

There's no use in saying
What will be, will be,
Once try it, my lack brain,
And see what you'll see!
Why, just small potatoes,
And few in a row;
You'd better take hold then,
And honestly hoe!

A good many workers
I've known in my time—
Some builders of houses,
Some builders of rhyme,
And they that were prospered,
Were prospered, I know,
By the intent and meaning of
"Hoe your own row!"

I've known too, a good many
Idlers, who said,
I've a right to my living,
The world owes me bread!
A right! lazy lubber!
A thousand times No!
'Tis his, and his only
Who hoes his own row.

The following article is taken from the Banner of the Cross, a religious paper in the interest of the Protestant Episcopal church, and is published by request:

EPISCOPACY AND ROMANISM.

Using the above words in their ordinary popular sense, I crave a little space for comments thereon. The denominational press, on all sides, seem inclined—and the inclination has become chronic—to represent the Episcopal church as Romeward bound. Not intending now an exhaustive essay, I will only submit a few facts and suggestions, in reply to questions addressed to me, and in answer to letters received.

1. There are fewer persons, reared in the Episcopal church entering the Romish communion than from the other churches of the world. I have for some years noted the confirmations reported by the Romish bishops; also the per cent. of former protestants in the list of candidates. Upon inquiry I find the per cent which in some places is quite large, correct: but seldom is there an Episcopalian among the number, and of the latter but few reared in the Episcopal church. I have taken the reports of confirmations from the Pilot, the Freeman's Journal, and other Roman Catholic papers; and then instituted inquiries in the localities named. Cardinal Wiseman reports two thousand proselytes in England. It is found hat more than nine-tenths of these come from the dissenting bodies, a large per cent, being Methodist, and not from the established church.

2. Some clergymen and laymen of the Episcopal church have become Roman Catholics. Grant it. What does it prove? That the tendency of the Episcopal church is toward Rome? Let us see how that logic works. All the Unitarian ministers in Chicago, and some others in different parts of the country, were once Methodist pastors. Does that prove that the Methodist church tends to Unitarian sin? Several Unitarian ministers, of whom the present Bishop Huntington is one, have entered the Episcopal church. Is Unitarianism blossoming into Episcopacy? More—how many Presbyterian, Methodist, and other pastors, have within twenty years, resigned their charges, and taken Episcopal ministrations? Is that an incontrovertible argument that their ecclesiastical currents are all running the same way? The very same week that reported the defection of one of our clergy—and that without sufficient authority—announced also that two Presbyterian, and one Methodist clergymen, and four Romish priests, had joined the Episcopal church; and that one Presbyterian minister and his son had become Roman Catholics. The arithmetic of that week as figured in the denominational press, worked out a problem, and gave an answer to it; and it was substantially this; "Episcopacy squinting toward Romanism." I would respectfully ask if the "squinting" is all on one side?

3. Some clergymen of other protestant bodies have come into our communion, and then speedily gone Romanward. They were already possessed of certain doctrines and practices, for which there was no scope, save in Romanism. How did it happen that these men, educated and trained in a ministry not Episcopal, had in their mature age, such a symbolism and ritualism, that they could not find enough of either to satisfy them, short of the papacy? A man was taken, in my house, with the Campagna fever, contracted in Italy. Does it follow that the Pontine marshes are in the rectory? One extreme follows another. Ague first fever afterwards. Let us look now at the antecedent history of some of the modern peverts to Romanism. Mr. J. McMasters, editor of a Roman Catholic paper, The Freeman's Journal, is the son of a Presbyterian minister. Rev. W. J. Bakewell, of Pittsburgh, was a successor of Mathew Henry, a commentator on the Bible and pastor of a dissenting congregation in England His son, R. H. Bakewell, was afterwards editor of the Shepherd of the Valley, a journal of the Roman Catholic church. Rev. Mr. Huntington, who has in a volume given his reasons for renouncing protestantism, says that he received his theological education at the Presbyterian seminary at Princeton, N. J. Dr. O. A. Brownson was for a time a Congregational minister. Father Hewett is the son of an old school Presbyterian pastor. Father Walworth is the son of Chancellor Walworth, an elder in a Presbyterian church. Judge Burnet, author of the book entitled Reasons that led a Protestant Lawyer to the Catholic church, was a Baptist until his acceptance of Romanism. Judge Lord, was a Presbyteryan until he made a similar change.

A Roman Catholic writer says that George Leach, Prof. Oertel, Porter Thomas, and others, came to them from bodies not Episcopal. Of Donald McLeod, and some others claimed as proselytes from the Episcopal church, I only know that in college days, the time of my acquaintanc with them, they did not attend upon Episcopal ministrations.

Of the European proselytes, DeJoux was a Calvinistic pastor at Geneva. Profs. Muller, Philips, Adams, and the Philosopher Schlegel, were not of the Episcopal church. Neither were the count of Ingenheim, the Princess of Mecklenburg, Count Stolberg, Werner, and the Baron of Ecstein. DeHaller, Esslinger, Henter and Overbeck, were of the Swiss Protestant churches. Of the perverts reported in France, the Romish list before me gives all as non-Episcopal. The Marquis of Bute was a Scotch Presbyterian. Of the perverts from the English church most of them, whose biography I have been able to trace, were educated in latitudinarian views, and swung by a pendulum law, from one extreme to another. I have written enough for my suggestion, that the Episcopal church is not the great depot for the supply of the papacy, and where Romish trains wood and water. My observations are not intended as unkind, nor invidious, to my neighbors of the various denominations. But when charges are continually made and repeated, having no foundation in fact—when our parishioners are disturbed by statements and paragraphs put in their hands, which are not true, we must be pardoned for using modestly a little of the King's English, and saying these things are not so; at the same time asking, from all parties, a full and fair examination of all the questions involved.

JOHN RANDOLPH'S ADVICE.

When John Randolph was in London, he wrote to a gentleman who married his favorite niece. It was the following advice:

Have no dealing that can possibly be avoided with your neighbors. The disregard of this caution will certainly lead to squabbles and strife.

Take no receipt on loose paper. Carry a receipt book in your pocket, and take all receipts in it; if you are afraid of losing it keep it in your desk. Always have the receipts witnessed when practicable.

Copy or have copied all bills in your book, so that you must at a glance see the cost of any article or branch of expenses. Without accurate accounts you must fall behind hand.

What voyage would a ship make without observation or reckoning? You are now embarked on a voyage of life; without a lookout you must be cast away.

Form no intimacies with your neighbors under seven years' acquaintance. The rigid observation of my own maxims preserved me from strife, and from loss by those. With the rest I was on the best of terms.

Economy—the adapting of your supplies judiciously to the intended end—that is the gift of God. It cannot be taught, at least, I have tried all my life, without success. My mother had it to perfection.

Frugality—it is in the power of every honest man, who means to retain his honesty, to refrain from indulging in expenses which he cannot afford. A disregard to this maxim, the result of the ignorant intolerance of their own affairs, has ruined all my name and race. They did not know what they could afford, and some, I fear, did not care.

It seems that fashionable parties in Boston give themselves up to the German, and other varieties of, round dances, and between the rounds the young gentlemen and ladies are refreshed with beef tea! 'This,' remarks the Transcript, 'is more creditable and nutritious than champagne.

INDEPENDENT.

The Atlantic Monthly opens the coming year with the following list of contributions productions of those among the best American writers. The Cathedral (a poem) Among the Isles, Joseph and his friend, II Guido Rospegliosi, The study of History, Americanism in Literature, Newhaught the Deacon, The woman Thou gavest Me, What to do with the surplus. Nearing the Snowline, Was he dead? Under the Midnight Sun, The Descent of Neptune to aid the Greeks, By Horse Car to Boston, Reviews and Literary notices, &c. Fields, Osgood & Co., Boston.

Harper's Magazine for next month continues Frederick the Great, discusses the site of National Capital, Lady Fortune, Beast, Bird and Fish, Paul De Chaillu, and a long variety of other literary articles of the best quality. Harper Bros., N. Y.

The Nursery for January keeps up its value for the little ones, and is an admirable number. John L. Shorey, Boston.

The Little Corporal comes along fresh and lively, and no doubt is welcomed by its army of youngsters. A. L. Sewell, Chicago.

Packard, always excellent, for January, if possible, is still better. This monthly is enlarged and makes a fine appearance. S. S. Packard, N. Y.

Peters' Musical Monthly indulges in a large amount of new music, adapted to instrumental and vocal purposes. Good as the best in that line. J. L. Peters, N. Y.

The Lady's Friend.—The number for January, 1870, is a truly splendid New Year's gift. A thrilling picture—In the Rapids of Niagara, is the first steel plate, the second is a beautiful title page to the magazine, encircled with the flowery wreathed portraits of seven of its lady contributors—the brightly intellectual face of Mrs. Henry Wood matronizing the younger ladies—Mrs. Moulton, Florence Percy, Elizebeth Prescott, Miss Douglass, August Bell, and Mrs. Hosmer. The publishers offer great inducements to new subscribers, we recommend our readers to enclose ten cents for a sample copy, to Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut st., Philadelphia. Price $2,50 a year, which includes a large steel engraving. Four copies $6. Five copies, and one gratis, $8. The Lady's Friend and Saturday Evening Post, and one engraving $4.

A Model Parlor Magazine.—For beauty of typograpy, artistic engravings, and high toned literary articles, together with a large and beautiful display of the fashions, Demorest's Monthly Magazine is certainly unsurpassed. The January number, just received, in addition to unusual holiday attractions, has a fine steel portrait of both Mr. and Mme. Demorest. The rich display of novelties offered in Demorest's Monthly would seem to be enough to secure a circulation sufficient to satisfy its publishers, but in addition we see they propose to give a very large and fine engraving to each subscriber, valued at $10. The engraving alone would make a very appropriate holiday or birthday gift; but when added to the costly picture the best parlor magazine is included, to be a monthly reminder of the friendly feelings of the giver, there is certainly no better way of investing $3—Address Demorest's Monthly, 838 Broadway, N. Y.

BUSINESS EDUCATION FOR GIRLS.

BY MME. DEMOREST.

Useful compensated labor affords the only means of independence and of growth—physically, mentally and morally.

Men have learned the lesson long ago—no man is respectable, in the highest sense, who is an idler. The active only have the true relish of life, for they who know not what it is to labor know not what it is to enjoy. It is exertion that renders rest delightful and sleep sweet and refreshing. The wealth of to-day is the accumulation of labor of the past, and remunerative work not only accumulates wealth and comforts, but gives the ability to use judiciously and take care of the means accumulated; therefore the regular prosecution of some purpose or profession which engages, helps and enlivens all the powers, affords the only means for the elevation or independence of women—work, not daintily performed as a pastime, but undertaken with energy and with resolution and without the spirit of vain repining that sinks under misfortune, or yields easily to temptation. Looking from the standpoint of the views at present entertained by the greater portion of our own sex, it is evident that, before this truth shall be comprehended in the proper light, a vast change must come o'er the dreams—the dream of chivalry in man—weakness and incapacity in woman to become self supporting. There is really little difference in the natural capacities of individuals; the difference arises from the exercise, and consequent growth of latent faculties. Educate young as most girls are educated, expecting somebody to provide for them—they acquire habits and tastes of extravagance while enjoying the social advantages that wealthy parents give their children—and the result is invariably want of ability to keep an inheritance, to say nothing of adding to it. If men, with their assumed superior capability for making money and managing it, stand thus in need of practical education to insure success, why charge women with want of ability in these respects, when few opportunities are given for the needed experience?

When wealthy parents find proved that "riches often take to themselves wings," they recognize the folly—more than that the wickedness—that environs a daughter with circumstances that make her only a recipient of favors, when her highest good is the development of faculties which are born or strengthened only by action. Among men, remuneration is the acknowledged lever of action, and is as general as it is positive. For this reason, parents, teach your daughters some remunerative business. Select for them as you do for your sons,—according to natural or apparent capability. No longer expect of them proficiency in an endless round of what are called domestic duties, whether they like it or not, and any department of which is a science in itself.

A woman is expected to know a little of everything, and nothing thoroughly or scientifically under the present system of training, or rather want of training. It is, therefore, quite im possible that she should possess any special ability. A daughter often resembles her father in temperament—why should she not inherit the genius or capacities that have made him successful? The truth is, women are adapted to many professions and a variety of employments. Looking back upon the past, we find many who have been successful in their rebellion to the established code, and who have won high rank or favor as reward for their courage and perseverance. With all the repression and exclusion, a galaxy of female names, and every year the range of remunerative avocations is widening. New ones are undertaken suited to various degrees of capability and refinement. Female professors occupy college chairs, and in the medical profession women have, within the last few years, completely triumphed over the prejudice and jealousies of the entire male fraternity, meeting odium and vituperation with a dignified bearing that won them golden opinions from all classes of society. Telegraphing, book-keeping and type-setting are being successfully pursued, and the way now is comparatively clear; yet no eminent position in life, it must be remembered, is attained without prompt and earnest effort to overcome all its difficulties. Women must work from themselves and for themselves. It is against all law to expect mental or physical strength or abilities without the equivalent personal effort to attain the several qualities. This is admitted in the abstract; but women, at least, have not worked in accordance with the law.

"Like orient pearls at random strung,
Adorn the world of literature,"

Women are accustomed to look on obstacles as exceptional; and borrowing their fancies from the poetical imagries of chivalry, expect to find only roses in the new line of action. The majority of men grapple earnestly with each and every hindrance interposing between the desire and the attainment of the position they have in view; it only remains for women to do battle as determinately to conquer. Let opinion cry you down scornfully as it will, meet it with indifference, with a religious sense of duty, with truth, and without fear.

The barriers of conventionality have been raised so high, and so strongly cemented by long existence, the only hope of overthrowing them exists in the union of numbers linked together by common opinion and effort. The voice of one or two, or a dozen women however zealous in the cause, would be lost in the clamors of denunciation; but the united watchword of thousands would strike at the foundation of the false system and annihilate it.

Therefore, to daughters, I say, fit yourselves for some congenial business or profession that will reward your labor—as men learn trades—so that the results of your labor may demonstrate the hand and genius of a master workman in its accomplishment, and the great world which has need of proficiency, of every germ of talent, of every resolute worker, must, by force of the mysterious magnetism of your power, recognize your claims to equality upon this plane with man.—Demorest's Monthly for January.

ABOUT PUFFS.

No greater mistake is made by people who advertise than in the value they set upon editorial puffs in the newspapers. What we mean by that is the style of articles found in the local columns and 'leaded' as editorial matter, and generally descriptive of somebody's cigars, candy, cock-tails, or cabbages. Many people suppose these to be the most valuable advertisements, when in fact they are the very poorest. The public generally understands that these paragraphs are paid for either in favors or cash, and estimate them accordingly. Some people ask the editor for a puff and "encourage" him properly too, more for the purpose of reading his extravagant language and witnessing his ingenuity in the use of expletives than for the profit they expect to derive. Some are too indolent to write their own advertisements, and still others resort to a puff in order to get a deadhead notice. This is all wrong. Puffs are the most worthless of advertisements. Some men are willing enough to pay for printing ink but they imagine that palpable straight out advertising is not exactly the thing. They want to get it done in the third person or to have the endorsement of the editorial "we." That business man who soonest educates himself out of this delusion will have the most greenbacks. A business man's advertisement in his own language over his own signature, and for which he is plainly responsible, is in the nature of an official document and receives more considerate attention than a puff in the local column, and is both more valuable and respectable. There is an air about the responsible advertisement which says, "I want to trade and will give you a fair bargain." The puff insinuates that there is no responsibility in the matter. When we have occasion to advertise our own busines, we rarely make editorial mention of it, but insert an advertisement. This view of the subject is not inconsistent with the common practice of making editorial mention of matters that are constantly occuring in the business community by which any man's business may be called into notice. One is a news item and the other is an introduction as it were of a new customer to the reading or business public.

To obtain the full value of printer's ink, advertise. Do it in your own language, or if you cannot do that to suit you get some one better versed in the matter to help you, or come to the office with your ideas written down and we will help put them in shape. But by all means advertise. Change often, and when your business admits of it make different features of it prominent in their turn; to-day one thing, to-morrow or next week another, and then something else. Let your advertisements have something of the dash in them, without great exaggeration. Hundreds of fortunes have been made by advertising, and yet as an art it is but imperfectly understood.—Exchange.

CHEAP PLEASURES.

Did you ever study the cheapness of some pleasures? asks some writer. Do you know how little it takes to make a multitude happy? Such trifles as a penny, a word or a smile do the work. There are two or three boys passing along—give them each a chestnut, and how smiling they look! they will not be cross for some time. A poor widow lives in the neighborhood, who is the mother of half a dozen children. Send them half a peck of sweet apples, and they will all be happy. A child has lost his arrow—the world to him—and he mourns sadly; help him to find it or make him another, and how quickly will the sunshine come over the sober face! A boy has as much as he can do to pile up a load of wood; assist him a few minutes, or speak a pleasant word to him, and he forgets his toil, and works away without minding it. Your apprentice has broken a mug, or cut a vest too large; or slightly injured a piece of work. Say "you scoundrel," and he feels miserable; but remark, "I am sorry," and he will try to do better. You employ a man, pay him cheerfully, and speak a pleasant word to him, and he leaves your house with a contented heart, to light up his own hearth with smiles and gladness. As you pass along the street, you meet a familiar face; say "Good morning," as though you felt happy, and it will work admirably in the heart of your neighbor. Pleasure is cheap. Who will not bestow it liberally? If there are smiles, sunshine, and flowers all about us, let us not grasp them with a miser's fist, and lock them up in our hearts. No; rather let us take them and scatter them about us, in the cot of the widow, among the group of children, in the mart, where men of business congregate, in our families, and everywhere. We can make the wretched happy, the discontented cheerful, the afflicted resigned, at an exceedingly cheap rate. Who will refuse to do it?

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN MISSOURI.

The woman's suffrage association of St. Louis, at its meeting on Saturday night last, passed a resolution of cordial thanks to the legislature of Wyoming territory for recognizing the right of women to the ballot. A resolution was also forwarded to the Illinois constitutional convention, to assemble this week, expressing the earnest hope that that in their adjustment of the suffrage question in the new constitution to be framed, the claim of women to the ballot may be recognized and acknowledged.

The president of the association, Mrs. Minor, announced that at the next general election in Missouri, she intended to apply to be registered as a voter, and in case of refusal to institute legal proceedings, and if necessary carry the case to the supreme court of the United States on the ground that under the constitution women are citizens and entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities of other citizens. Mrs. Minor stated that some of the best lawyers of the country concurred in that view and that the case would be ably conducted. The women of Missouri seem to be "terribly in earnest" in this matter. Success to them.—Beacon.

Those who wish a reliable preparation for the hair should adopt Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair renewer.

PUSH AND HOLD ON!

The newspapers record that a "push-cart man," or as they call him "down east" a "hand cart man" retired on a fortune. We can r adily believe it, for many of those thrifty Yankees manage, before they reach the age to rest to secure a pillow of greenback to rest upon.

We like the story of this push-cart man. He kept his business entirely in his own hands; and his team was always through dinner as soon as he, and as fresh as he was. He had no unnecessary extravagances to provide for, and no current expenses to be running on, while the push-cart stood still We venture to say that all surplus earnings were deposited or invested where they would pay interest; and that he does not to this day, in his retirement, spend the whole of his income, but carries part to the increase of his principal.

If young men, and all men would only look forward to the time when nature will require a relaxation of their labor, or when new fashions or more adroit workers will put them aside, they would push their business and hold on upon their earnings. There is a leak in the pocket of too many men, by which the tills of liquor vendors are filled with fools' pence. If the money wasted in the indulgence of a habit which is not only unnecessary but pernicious, could only be laid aside for present help and future rest, a vast improvement would be shown. There would be no need of strikes and no compulsory labor. The temperate man would be able to retire when age made it desirable to remit his labors. And he could do so too without being made the subject of newspaper comment. For the withdrawal of persons past their meridian from hard work would be the rule and not the exception.

We are no advocate for penurious and niggardly living. Nor would we have the mind starved in the pursuit of money getting. If the single item of alcohol, however prepared or disguised, could be taken from the public consumption, and if the whole amount of money wasted for that were still spent in harmless luxuries, the world would be the gainer. The worst evil of habitual drinking is not the cost of the liquor, but the demoralization of the men who drink it. They are not competent to "push" understandingly, or to husband their resources. But they are always drifting at the mercy of circumstances; unable to shape their course or to determine their purposes. A ship might as well be without a rudder as with a steersman at the wheel whose thoughts are confused, and whose senses are made obtuse by his habits of indulgence in deadening potations.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Many farmers throw away all of their potato stalks. We have seen tons of this material piled up in fence corners or thrown into some out of the way place. The stems and leaves of the potatoes are very valuable for manure, and they should never be wasted, but drawn to the barnyard or placed in a compost heap. According to the experiments of Mr. Springel, there are four pounds of valuable mineral substances, beneficial to vegetation, in every hundred pounds of dried potato stems and leaves. Bossegault found twenty three pounds of nitrogen in a thousand pounds of dry potato stems. As nitrogen is one of the most valuable manuring agents, farmers cannot afford to waist it.

Many of our readers have experienced great difficulty in handling new ropes. Every farmer knows how unmanageable a new, stiff rope-halter is, and his patience is severely tried when he tries to tie up his cattle with it, as the rope will coil itself into every shape but the one desired. Often he finds his horses and cattle rampaging about the barn, having loosened the knots of the new halters. By simply boiling the rope in water for two hours, all this trouble can be avoided, and the rope made as soft and pliable as if used for months. Its strength is not diminished, but its stiffness is gone. It must hang in a warm room until thoroughly dried, and not allowed to kink. This easy remedy will secure horses and cattle from many kicks and blows, and prevent much profanity.

The poet Bryant made a short address at the opening of the homeopathic hospital movement in New York, in which he said: "Hahanemann prescribed both for the soul and body—the love of God for the soul and homeopathy for the body. It reminds me of the medical system of a Scotch physician, whose name I have forgotten, and who used to say: 'Weel, there are twa things we maun do, ane for this warld and ane for t'other—keep your bowels open an' that will do for this warld, an' keep a clean conscience an' that will do for t'other.

REMOVING APPLE STAINS.—Hold the stained cloth over an empty vessel, and pour boiling water on it slowly, filtering through. If this fails to remove the stains, dissolve a few grains of oxalic acid in half a pint of cold soft water, and dip the cloth in it. A few dippings, we think, will remove the stains. Oxalic acid, if very strong, will injure the cloth by eating holes in it. A solution of it kept in a bottle for toilet use, is convenient in freeing the hands of stains. Lemon juice and salt exterminate ink spots and other stains in white goods.

A drunken man, in New York, went home, Wednesday, and on entering his room, tripped and fell face downward in his hat. He was smothered to death.

During a fine starlight evening, lately a juvenile philosopher, after a silent and profound scrutiny of the heavens, asked his mother abruptly where the stars came from. Mamma replied: "I don't know, Willie." "Yes you do, too." "No, Willie I don't know where the stars came from." "Well, you bet I do. The moon laid 'em."

Two Dollars a year, in advance.

Massillon, Wednesday, Dec. 29.

Constitutional Amendment--YES.

1869—GONE.

A brief glance over the file of the INDEPENDENT during the year just closing may present some points in the history of our city and its people worthy of note at this time. In January last, efforts were made by our citizens to secure the location of a state prison in this vicinity. Other places competed for the favor, but none have yet realized it, so Massillon stands as good a chance as any other place.

About the same time measures were begun which have since been almost perfected for securing a railroad connection with the north. Our people cooperating with others have achieved this work in a comparatively brief period.

The M. E. church for several weeks of the last of 1868 and commencem nt of 1869 hold a protracted meeting, resulting in numerous additions to the membership.

The velocipede mania during the first months of the year agitated our own as well as other communities.

During the last winter our community was favored with a number of good lectures, among which was one by our old friend John M'Clymonds, now of Cleveland.

On the 22d of February a destructive fire occurred in West Massillon, which resulted in the total burning of the homes and much of the property of D. W. Huntsman and A. Peirce.

Profs. Wilder & Humer had their commercial college in successful operation during January and a month or two following.

Sometime in March last a West Massillon man was reported lost, but he has since come to light all correct.

Sometime during the same month a man was shot in a whisky row, but the wound received not being fatal the perpetrator was let off easy.

The school examinations elicited the usual interest, which annually take place during March.

The death of Samuel Pease, Esq., once a prominent citizen of this place, is noticed as having occurred April 10th.

On the 21st inst., the death of Mr. T. A Picks another well known man in this community, took place.

Mrs. E. Kelley, wife of the late Judge Kelley, occurred on the 16th inst.

St. John's Evangelical (German) church was dedicated on the 28th of May with appropriate ceremonies.

The corner stone of the Evangelical Lutheran church was laid. with appropriate ceremonies, on the 13th of June, and notwithstanding the rain a large crowd was present.

On the 30th of May the G. A. R,s of this place observed the decoration memorial of their fellow comrades.

June 4, it became known here that I. H. Brown, Esq., was placed in the Massillon postoffice.

Henry Kleppert was killed on the railroad on Saturday, June 12th, near this place.

June 23d completed the sixth year of the Massillon Independent.

On the night of July 2d John Fisher was shot while unlawfully prowling about the premises of one of our citizens.

Previous to this date measures were taken to enlarge the city bonndaries, which proved a success.

About the middle of July our citizens became interested in a new railroad project called the Tuscarawas Valley Railroad.

Along in July and August last we tried to stir up the city council in behalf of gas, but it ended in smoke.

The sensation of Saturday, Aug. 7, was the almost total eclipse of the sun —but it was not limited to Massillon.

The Farmers' Harvest Home at Clay's Spring's brought together a large concourse of people on the 28th of August, but a thunder storm deranged the programme.

About four inches of snow fell on the 7th of September.

Prof. Kimball resigned his place as superintendent of the schools of this place, in September, and Prof. E. A. Jones took his place.

Many other matters worthy of note might be mentioned, but space forbids at this time.

GEN. POTTS, the state senator of this district, who has recently been appointed governor of Montana, of which brief notice was made last week, we understand, will not vacate his place for some time, perhaps not this winter; for like a thoroughly loyal man, as he is, he will do nothing to jeopardize the prospects of the fifteenth amendment in the Ohio legislature. Another state senater, of the 8th district, Mr. Russell, died a short time since, and the governor has ordered an early special election [illegible] The district represented by the deceased is reported as strongly republican, so the prospects of the ratification of the amendment will not suffer from this cause.

From the crowing of certain politicians after the election last fall, the superficial observer would suppose that temperance as a political issue was forever and eternally crushed out, but from what the New York Herald says, the friends of the movement in that state recently held a convention, and took decided ground in favor of political temperance. It is a ghost—if ghost at all—that won't be put down so easily.

---

GEORGIA.—Congress tried to reconstruct Georgia, but as soon as they took to governing themselves the old spirit of slavery broke loose in the state and in the legislature—in the state by mobbing and murdering white and black people who favored the principles of the Declaration, and in the legislature by driving out the colored members and putting minority rebels in their places. This is in violation of the 14th amendment, so congress voted Georgia back the other day, and put the state under national laws. The conditions for the state now to follow is, to retain the regularly elected colored members in the legislature and adopt the 15th amendment. This may seem arbitrary, and naturally the disunion sympathising democracy howl over it loudly. But what better course can congress pursue? If Georgia can violate the national laws with impunity then Ohio and all the rest can do the same, and we should have wars and rumors of wars over again. Thirty years ago in the estimation of this same democracy it was all right for South Carolina to trample under foot the requirements of the constitution and laws by outraging the rights of both white and colored citizens of Massachusetts—they had no shrieks to utter over anything of that sort, as long as it tended to uphold slavery, but when measures are taken to strengthen the cause of liberty then the rebel spirit is rampant.

---

DEATH OF E. M. STANTON.—But a few days ago the thousands of friends of Mr. Stanton read with pleasure and satisfaction that President Grant had nominated and the U. S. senate confirmed him as one of the associate judges of the supreme court, and that he had accepted the position. On Friday morning the telegraph astonished the country with the news of the death of this distinguished man, which took place about 3 o'clock. For years his health had been failing in consequence of incessant labor as the principal war officer in the nation. Notwithstanding Mr. S. was favored with a constitution of unusual strength and vitality, yet the unceasing and responsible duti s performed by him during the war told on him with fearful certainty, and evidently tended to shorten his days. He was about 54 years of age, just in the maturity of his intellectual powers, and had a sufficiently strong constitution to last him a century, if he could have spent the last few years of his life under less exciting and exacting duties. Before the war he was a democrat, but when necessity required he abandoned the party whose leaders imperilled the life of the nation, and fought them with a power and vigor which only giant minds can wield; and to his patriotic zeal and management of the war affairs of our country do many attribute the success of our arms over those of the rebel hosts.

DEATH OF EX-MAYOR, WM. BROWN.

At a regular session of the city council, on the evening of the 22d inst., the following preamble & resolutions were offered by the city solicitor, and on motion of Mr. Ogden the same were unanimously adopted—

WHEREAS. It has been represented to this council that WILLIAM BROWN, formerly mayor of this city, and late member of the city council, has this day departed this life, and

WHEREAS, it is proper that we who survive him should bear testimony to his worth as a public officer and citizen. Therefore, be it

Resolved—That we have heard with deep regret of the death of our friend and fellow citizen, WILLIAM BROWN, Esq., for many years connected with the public service as mayor of the city and member of the city council.

Resolved—That we tender to his family our sympathy in this their hour of affliction, commending them to Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved—That the members of this council and officers of the corporation will attend the funeral of ex-mayor Brown in a body, and that the Marshal be and he hereby is directed to provide carriages sufficient for that purpose.

Resolved—That the city clerk be and he hereby is directed to furnish a copy of these proceedings to the city papers, and that out of respect to the memory of the deceased, we do now adjourn.

D. W. HUNTSMAN,
City Clerk.

The city council met on last Wednesday evening, but in consequence of the death of Mr. Ww. Brown, ex-mayor of Massillon, transacted no other business than that of adopting appropriate sentiments in regard to his services and memory, which appear in another place.

In consequence of the general interest that everybody seemed to take last week in making preparations for Christmas, the programme of some of the associations in town were not carried out on last Thursday evening. Among these was that of the Literary Association. A portion of the members were present, but several who were to take an active part in the doings were absent, and for this reason no organization was effected. But the understanding was, that the question selected for that evening's discussion—that is, the propriety of making temperance a political issue—should be brought up on next Thursday evening, and debated by the members. Now if the anticipated new year don't interfere it is hoped a full attendance will be had. Members who have promised to be on hand should not fail to be there. That Bible question, however, seems to be the irrepressible one, and the probability is, it may again come up for consideration. If so, we hope the members participating will give it enhanced interest by preparing somewhat to express their ideas on the sides they choose to speak. It is worthy of their best efforts. All are invited—at the Mayor's office.

At a meeting of Sippo Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., held on the evening of the 27th inst., the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: F. H. Snyder, N. G.; J. Bracher, V. G.; James Hackett, R. S.; John B. Wert, P. S.; N. S. Russell, T.

Having purchased a lot of fine qualities of queensware on the most favorable terms, at more than 20 per cent. below late prices of the article, Mr. Lockwood announces that he is enabled to sell the same at rates which will astonish buyers. Call on him, and see if these things are not so.

A few day's before Christmas that artist known as j. f. manufactured a considerable quantity of ice in the Massillon skating rink known as the Ohio canal, so that a large number of the young people enjoyed themselves on Saturday with that exhilarating exercise. But a thaw soon came and spoiled most most of this sport. No ice has yet been packed that we hear of.

The great inconvenience under which many of our citizens and all strangers labor in not having the houses numbered is every day becoming more apparent. Some measures should be taken to alleviate this difficulty, as it is one which can be overcome with comparatively trifling expense to anybody. We hope our city council will take the business in charge and adopt such measures as will speedily result in the completion of this desirable convenience.

About these days people complain of mud very often. The winter, thus far, is not unlike that of 1827-8, and several of a similar sort since.

The openness of the winter thus far has a tendency to keep the canal navigable a good portion of the time, so that boats, if they wish to can run short distances—but it don't do to venture too for.

The temperance men of this state have again met in convention and ventilated their peculiar ideas of the special evil. The convention met at Syracuse on Wednesday last, Gerrit Smith in the chair. A full report is given in another place. A series of resolutions were adopted condemning the laxity of the government in dealing with the most pregnant cause of all the demoralization and crime from which the country suffers. The platform on which the party presents itself to the country has many good 'planks' in it, not the least being that the party attacks the evil in its most vulnerable point—the political—pledging itself that the war to be waged is not one solely directed against the dramshops, but against the system of primary and general elections. This is as it ought to be. Purify the politicians and subvert their schemes, and the rest of the work will be easy. However Utopian the result hoped for may be, or the impossibility of attaining it may appear, we wish the temperance organization God speed in the good work they have undertaken.—N. Y. Herald.

The Remedy to Cure.
The Remedy to Cuer.

Will all those afflicted with cough or consumption read the following and learn the value of

ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM.

WHAT THE DOCTOR'S SAY:

Amos Woolly, M. D. of Kosciusko county, Indiana, says: For three years past I have used Allen's Lung Balsam extensevely in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung diseases in use.

Isaac R. Doran, M. D. of Logan Co., Ohio, says: Allen's Lung Balsam not only sells rapidly, but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it, and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice, and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known.

Dr. Lloyd, of Ohio, surgeon in the army during the war, from exposure contracted consumption. He says: I have no hesitation in saying that it was by the use of your Lung Balsam that I am now alive and enjoying health.

Dr. Fletcher, of Missouri, says: I recommend your Balsam in preference to any other medicine for coughs, and gives satisfaction.

Allen's Lung Balsam is the remedy to cure all Lung and Throat difficulties; it should be thoroughly tested before using any other balsam. It will cure when all others fail Directions accompany each bottle. J. N. HARRIS & Co., sole proprietor; Cincinnati, Ohio.

Sold by all druggists. For sale by Joseph Watson, E. Kachler, and G. W. Demuth, & Co., Massillon.

BEST CABINET ORGANS

AT LOWEST PRICES.

That the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet and Metropolitan organs are the best in the world is proved by the almost unanimous opinion of professional musicians, by the award to them of seventy-five gold and silver metals or other highest premiums, at principal industrial competitions within a few years, including the medal at the Paris exposition, and by a sale very much greater than that of any similar instruments. This company manufacture only first-class instruments, and will not make cheap organs at any price, or suffer an inferior instrument to bear their name. Having greatly increased their facilities for manufacture, by the introduction of new machinery and otherwise, they are now making better organs than ever before, at mereased economy in cost, which, in accordance with their fixed policy of selling always at least remunerative profit they are now offering at prices of inferior work. Four octave organs, plain walnut case, $50. Five octave organs, double reed, solid walnut case, carved and paneled, with five stops, (Viola, Diapason, Melodia, Flute, Tremulant), $125. Other styles in proportion.

Circulars with full particulars. including accurate drawings of the different styles of organs, and much, information which will be of service to every purchaser of an organ will be sent free, and postage paid, to any one desiring them. We, the Druggists of Massillon, call the attention of our customers to the letters published below of the wondertul efficacy of Dr Roback's Stomach Bitters, Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Purifier, and Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Pills. We have been selling these medicines long enough to know that they are all they are recommended to be, and that the certificates of cures published are true.

JOS. WATSON, EDWARD KACHLER

PLEASANT HILL, MISS., April 9, 1866.

DR. C. W. ROBACK,

Dear Sir:—Last fall my wife had the Liver Complaint so bad she was able to sit up but a few minutes at a time. I had a physician doctoring her for some time, but the medicine he gave her seemed to do her but little or no good. I was advised to get her a bottle of your Bitters, and let her try them, and see if they would help her. So I thought if one bottle would be good two would be better, and I got her two bottles, and when she had taken the last bottle she could do most of her house work. I got her one more which entirely cured her, and she looks the best I have seen her for four years. We recommended them to several of our neighbors who have used them with great success.

Bishop Bedell will preach and administer the right of confirmation in St. Timothy's church, on Friday evening, Dec. 31st, at 7 o'clock; also officiate on New Year's morning at 10 o'clock.

The Ladies Social of the Presbyterian Society will be held at the house of Rev. R. L. Williams, on Thursday evening next. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Refreshments.

SQUARING UP.—Most if not all the business men of our community make it a practice to settle up their accounts, at least once a year, at the advent of a new twelvemonth, and the usage is a most commendable one. If properly carried out it prevents a vast amount of misunderstanding, trouble and useless litigation, and keeps the current of business in its proper channel by maintaining mutual confidence among all honorable men. It is probable that some of that sort of business may be attended to next week, and we hope all may be able to meet the demands coming upon them, if such present themselves, and adjust their affairs amicably, so as to begin the new year fair and square.

Taking advantage of the day on which people are expected to pass by work and give themselves up to worship, amusement, and social life, the hell gates of Massillon had their sluices open on Christmas, and in full blast. Blue ruin at the blue barrel and at other similar breathing holes of perdition, had a free flow, and their inspirations were characterized by the usual rowdy, boisterous and combative conduct characteristic of such places. It is reported that several rows occurred among those who became intoxicated, making the work of the police a lively exercise, especially in the latter part of the day, and filling the caliboose with whisky soaked subjects, many of whom, no doubt, robbed their families of the necessaries of life in order to indulge and inflame their beastial instincts. That portion of the Christmas doings had very little the appearance of civilized life, much less the phases of a professedly Christian community. But as long as men are made drunk such results are inevitable.

Bells were rung at 12 o'clock on the night of Friday last, at different churches in town, thus announcing the advent of another Christmas, a day to which all classes in this vicinity look with more than usual interest. Presents, visits, congratulations and good cheer seemed to be the order of the day, and the quiet class of community enjoyed themselves very agreeably. Religious exercises were observed at different churches, where many people were gathered to listen to the teachings of their various pastors. The dry goods stores and many other business places were closed, including our large manufacturing establishments, so as to give all connected with them opportunity for spending the holiday as they wished. The groceries were open, and some of them did a big day's work in the way of selling presents and the substantials of life. So the orderly portion of community enjoyed themselves handsomely and in a becoming manner.

DRAMA.—In another column of our paper will be found the announcement of M'lle Marie Zoe, the beautiful Cuban sylph, and her celebrated New York company and Brass Band. M'lle Zoe has long borne the name of the best star upon the stage in her particular line, and of being the most proficient swords woman in the world. Our exchanges speak of her in the most glowing terms, and as they are amongst us during the holidays we can insure them success. Don't forget that they commence on Thursday, Dec 30. Reserved seats for sale at Kelley Bros without extra charge.

Mr. Lockwood, an active business man, has quite a variety in his store room on Erie street, consisting of groceries, queensware, and other articles too numerous to specify. We are pleased to know that he is doing a fair business for a new beginner.

DEATH OF WM. BROWN.—In the decease of Mr. Wm. Brown, which took place at his residence on the 22d inst., after a lingering illness, our community has lost one of its best and most estimable citizens, and the place thus vacated will be hard to fill. A fitting memorial to his name by one who has long known him as a man of more than ordinary enterprise appears in to-day's paper. His remains were interred on last Sunday, attended by an unusually large concourse of citizens.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Mr. Stelling, pastor of an English Lutheran church at Harrisburg, Pa., and native of Massillon, made a visit to his parents and friends, all of whom greeted him with a hearty welcome. He preached at the Presbyterian church on Sunday last.

Prof. A. Beuter, now teacher of music at the Beaver (Pa.) Academy, has been with his wife, daughter of I. Nettleton, on a visit here the last few days.

Gen. Wm. Knapp, at present adjutant general Ohio, at Columbus has been making his mother and other relatives and friends a Christmas visit.

Mr. Wm. Hoover, now an official on the P. & C. R. W. made his old friends and neighbors a visit in this place a few days ago.

It seems that those who were once citizens of Massillon are inevitably attracted here, many of them once a year, and some at briefer intervals. Old associations are strong.

FAT BEEF.—One of the finest and fattest pieces of beef that is seen in a long time could be found at the meat market of Willenborg & Ertle the other day. It was too attractive to last long, and customers carried it off by piecemeal, and no doubt tested its good qualities by experiment.

Adam Hammersmith, one of the justices of the peace of Perry Township, has his office in the room occupied by A. F. Baldwin, Esq.

Go to Ricks' and get that good 12½ calico.

The schools of this place take a holiday recess this week, which gives the juveniles an opportunity to enjoy themselves with out door sports. They will be apt to make the most of it.

CHRISTMAS EVE—That is, the eve before Christmas, was a time of rejoicing and pleasure to hundreds of our citizens, both old and young—though we think the juniors had the best of it. Christmas trees all at once grew in the several churches, clothed in their natural green foliage, and laden with immense quantities of fruit. The Episcopal church witnessed one of these trees, neatly formed, fair size, and all through its branches were not only rich fruits, but there were also little twinkling stars, which added materially to the beauty of the exhibition. The Presbyterian church had a similar tree, equally burdened with choice fruits, which made a most gay and rich appearance. At the M. E. church the tree attained greater dimensions, and spread its branches like the famed banyan, all of which were overloaded with a vast variety of articles. These churches were all crowded with people, a large majority of whom consisted in being Young America, and so far as we can ascertain these youngsters were richly rewarded with presents of more or less value, and a good many of their seniors were similarly favored. Beside this very entertaining part of the programme the children's exercises consisted in singing Sunday school songs, led by the pastors and teachers of the different schools. Our Episcopal friends, we understand, in addition to the great variety of presents for the little ones, gave them a handsome entertainment in the way of a supper. Taking it all together the evening was very agreeably spent, and its doings will be long cherished in memories associated with everything lovely. Such occasions foster the better feelings of our natures, make us social and fraternal, if properly conducted; and it would not be amiss if we could so contrive it as to have such Christmas gatherings three or four times a year.

In this connection we would further state that a large concourse of children connected with the Sunday school of St. Paul's (German) church, met at their place of worship, on Mill street, with parents and friends, but they had no Christmas tree. For some time, however, Rev, P. I. Buehl, pastor of the church, conversed in a familiar manner with the children on religious topics, and at the close of these exercises, some odd looknig, oddly dressed chaps known as Kriss Kringle, came into the hall, loaded down with gifts and presents for the children, who enjoyed them keenly.

ALL RIGHT.—The last Shield and Banner of Mansfield gives at considerable length the particulars of a trial, instituted by Mrs. Lucinda Moore against Peter Mulready for selling her husband liquor, making him drunk, spending his money, and abusing his family. Trial before James S. Crall, Esq., and a jury of six men, which trial continued three days. After hearing all the facts in the case, the arguments of counsel on both sides, and the sensible charge of the justice, the jury found actual damages for the plaintiff in the sum of $150, and exemplary damages to the amount of $100—in all $250. That seems like salting the culprit pretty well, but not a cent more than justice requires, and possibly not half the amount of which he robbed the poor drunken Moore. $250 with the costs, however, will be a memento that Mulready will not soon forget. That Mansfield court and jury have made a noble example in punishing a richly deserving culprit, and one that might be well imitated in almost any town in Ohio. The law is all right—only carry it out.

DIED

At his residence in this city, on Wednesday afternoon, the 22d inst., after a long and most painful illness, WILLIAM BROWN, Esq., in the sixtieth year of his age.

Mr. Brown was a native of St. Clairsville, Belmont Co., and was born in October 1810, served an apprenticeship to the saddling business in the city of Wheeling, West Virginia, and came to Massillon early in 1832, where he remained until his decease; being near thirty-seven years, and may well be said to have been one of the oldest citizens and residents of whom so few remain.

He was identified with the progress and growth of the city almost from the time he came into it, then a small village, being called on to discharge some official duty that gave him prominence. He was one of the first members of the council, when Massillon was incorporated as a village, then Mayor, then serving again as a member of the council where he doubtless would have remained but for his removal just out of the city limits.

There are few men in any community of more decided character than was Mr. Brown. No business misfortune seemed to more than temporarily check his progress or discourage him from renewed efforts. After ceasing to carry on his business as a saddler, of the firm of Brown & Laughlin, he engaged in other enterprises with varying success until 1851, when he turned his attention to the coal trade, feeling satisfied that in the opening of the new mines in the Tuscarawas and Newman's Creek Valleys, a lucrative business could be established. Clear and eminently practical as were his views in opening up that, then new branch of trade, he had little idea of the vast amount of mineral coal soon to be used; then there were no railroads running into Massillon, the Ohio Canal being the only outlet. He commenced with one boat-load a week, about ten tons per day; the business soon increased ten fold and with the increase came corresponding gains, until he amassed a fortune, as his palatial residence and broad acres bear witness. He may be regarded as the pioneer in developing the vast coal interest now of such immense importance in estimating the business of the city.

Politically, in the days of the old whig party, Mr. Brown was an ardent and intelligent whig; few men who had not made politics a study and profession, were better advised of the movements and principles of all parties. On the inauguration of the republican party he became one of its most active members; and on the breaking out of the war of the rebellion, he was ready with his personal influence and means at all times to aid in the raising of troops for the service.

The immediate cause of his death was an injury received some few years since, while crossing the railroad west of this city, being struck by the engine of a passing train and thrown from his sulky, receiving injuries from which he never recovered, and which came near occasioning his death at the time. His indomitable will kept him attending to his business until within a few months when he was confined to his room, and on Wednesday he passed quietly away, closing an active and useful life, leaving a second wife, and children by each of his marriages. In business, social, and domestic circles he will be missed, as a man of integrity, a worthy citizen, and an affectionate husband and parent. COM.

DIED—December 18th, of typhoid fever, HENRY KANAGY, aged 7 years, 9 mos. and 16 days.

The departed was the son of George and Caroline Kanagy; his mother died when he was 3 months old, and he was taken by John and Elizabeth Mese as their own child. It would be a great blessing if all orphans were so fortunate in finding such foster parents. The death of this child brought affliction upon them as if it had been their own. The departed was an affectionate and obedient child; he is mourned by his natural father and his foster parents; he has gone to the juvenile school of Christ above. "Peace to his ashes." The occasion was improved by the writer, J. C. Klar, pastor of Charity church, Richville, O.

Departed this life Nov. 15th, in Perry tp., SAMUEL B. HUGHES, aged 87 years and 29 days.

The departed was born in Pennsylvania; he was one of the oldest settlers of Stark Co. and reached back into the time of the American revolution. He was twice married, both his wives preceding him. He was the father of 5 children. "Peace to his ashes." The occasion was improved by the writer,

J. C. KLAR.

MRS. ALLEN'S

Hair Restorer & Zylobalsamum

Are so uniformly grateful and beneficial, that they are with justice called the natural strengtheners of the human hair. They are two entirely separate and distinct preparations, not to be used together at one time.

Mrs. Allen's Hair Restorer

Never fails to satisfy the most refined and cultivated. A guarantee goes with every bottle, that it will quickly restore gray or white hair to its original youthful beauty, gloss and color; after its use a few times the hair will grow thicker and stronger. It will stop its falling and induce a healthy and luxuriant growth. It is an exquisite hair dressing, agreeable, harmless and healthy. Entirely different from most other preparations for the hair, its composition and ingredients are nourishing, giving life and vigor to the Roots.

Mrs. Allen's Zylobalsamum

This exquisite preparation is free from any sediment, and is a toilet treasure. The urgent want of a simple Hair Dressing, for the youth of both sexes, first induced the manufacture of the Zylobalsamum, and the sale of it is perfectly immense, not only in this country, but in Europe.

EXTRACTS FROM A FEW LETTERS.

"Your Zylobalsamum is used by every member, young and old, of our family, and we consider it invaluable. Should any gray hairs appear, we shall try your Hair Restorer, which we hear very highly spoken of."

—"Father and mother use your Hair Restorer, and are delighted with it. It soon restored their gray locks to their youthful color, but daughters and son still find in the Zylobalsamum all their hair requires."

From the Principal of one of our large Female Seminaries: "Your Zylobalsamum has been used for many years by myself and family, and is the favorite among our young ladies."

THE TRUE

THEORY OF PURGATION

APPLIED TO THE

Liver, Kidneys, Skin,

STOMACH & BOWELS.

DR. RADWAY'S

PERFECT

PURGATIVE PILLS,

Perfectly Tasteless,

ELEGANTLY COATED.

MATERIA MEDICA contains, in its repertoire, many purgative and cathartic agents that, for ordinary purposes, opens the bowels, and through what is called a "peristaltic" movement, purge from the alimentary canal the fæces and that is all. Such agents, for the purpose of cure, or removal of any settled disease, are utterly useless.

Dr. RADWAY has completed one of the most essential discoveries in medical chemistry—in the combination of vegetable substances, for the purposes of a PURGATIVE, APERIANT, COUNTER-IRRITANT, ALTERATIVE PILL, that can be taken, or administered with the absolute certainty of securing THOROUGH EXPULSION OF ALL DECAYED AND DECOMPOSING Elements of the human body, and also safe to take in the most malignant of Eruptive Fevers. In cases where the mucous membranes of the internal viscera are suffering from Ulceration, Inflammation, or from

Gastric, Bilary, Pancreatic Complaints,

DR. RADWAY'S PILLS

Supply the only Vegetable substitute for

CALOMEL OR MERCURY.

In RADWAY'S PILLS you have one medicine that will secure quicker, more thorough and better results than will be given in from three or more different prescriptions of the medical practitioner. As a proof of this —You are seized with a Bilious attack! Doctor prescribes Blue Pills or Calomel next, some Drastic Aloetic Pill or Powders to work off the effects of the Blue Pill; this prostrates you, and a tonic is next given, or it gentle aperient; whereas ONE DOSE OF RADWAY'S PILLS will do all the work that the three or more prescriptions are given for, without running any risk from mercurializing or salivating the system.

RADWAY'S PILLS.

In RADWAY'S PILLS, the true principle of purgation is secured—not alone to the office of dismissing the fæces and excrements from the bowels, but those tumors that are checked or stopped in their passage through the Skin, Kidneys, Lungs, and all excreting and secreting functions; for if these excrementious secretions belonging to the skin, liver, lungs, kidneys, are interrupted in their escape, they become products of decay and decomposition, and must be purged from the living body through their proper channels; hence the purgative qualities of RADWAY'S PILLS extend to the secretions of the SKIN, KIDNEYS, LIVER, &c.; whereas not one of the advertised Pills claim to act beyond the bowels.

How to Take Radway's Pills.

THEIR DAILY USE:

In doses of one or two pills, by all persons of a full habit of body, subject to giddiness, rush of blood to the head, palpitation of the heart, and all those subject to fits, will not only keep the blood from becoming congested or clogged up in the blood vessels, but will equalize its circulation, and prevent sudden attacks of appoplexy, disease of the heart, congestion. Persons who will take one of those pills every day will not suffer from Headaches, Dizziness, Hysterics, Fainting Spells, Pains around the Heart; and a hundred other disagreeable symptoms.

DYSPEPSIA.

One of RADWAY'S PILLS, two or three hours before dinner, taken daily, will keep the system free from DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, CONSTIPATION, COSTIVENESS, &c.

Bear in Mind,

RADWAY'S PILLS are the only purgative that will secure an alterative, diuretic, sudorific, aperient and tonic influence.

They are the only vegetable substitutes for Calomel or Mercury.

They promote the secretion of bile and withdraw it from the circulation.

They assist, through their nutritious properties, the chyme and chyle, and gastric juices in the process of digestion.

They are Elegantly Coated with Gum, Perfectly Tasteless, and free from Smell.

PRICE, Twenty-Five Cents per Box, or Five Boxes for One Dollar. Always ask for RADWAY'S PILLS, and see that the letters R.R.R. are on one side of label, and the words Radway's Regulators on the other. Sold by all Druggists and General Store Keepers, and at Dr. RADWAY'S Medical Office, 87 Maiden Lane, New York.

Errors of Youth.

A gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity send free to all who need it, the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience can do so by addressing in perfect confidence, JOHN B. OGDEN, 42 Cedar street, N. Y. 307 1y

The Great Pictorial Annual.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1870, for distribution gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the western hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the planter, and professional man, and the calculations have been made for such meridans and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive national calendar.

The nature, uses and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable receipts for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this one will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. Send for copies to the central manufactory, at Pittsburgh, Pa., or to the nearest dealer in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The bitters are sold in every town, city, and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

C. F. GALTON'S

DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.

In offering this remedy to the public, we feel confident that every statement we make in regard to its curative properties will be fully verified by all who avail themselves of it. The prescription has been used in this city nearly ten years, and has never failed to effect a permanent cure whenever used in accordance with the directions, and the patient has had sufficient strength of mind to abstain from rich and indigestible food for a short time. In case of Heartburn, Waterbrash, Constipation, and Nervous Headache, arising from imperfect digestion, and all ailments which are produced from an abuse of that important organ, the stomach, it will afford permanent relief.

As an evidence that our statements can be fully relied upon, we refer the reader to the certificates below:

"For a number of years I was greatly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and although my stomach craved food, it would immediately reject it, should I eat anything, no matter how small the quantity. I was frequently compelled to leave the table without being able to take any nourishment. In a short time I became very much reduced in flesh, and was so weak that I was unable and unfit to attend to my business. My mind was in no better condition than my body, as I was continually oppressed with lassitude and depression of spirits. I tried all the patent medicines and prescriptions that I heard of, and some of these afforded me temporary relief, but in a short time I relapsed into my former condition.

"While suffering in this manner I heard of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and concluded to try it. I had taken it but a short time when I began to feel relief, and continuing to take it, I soon could partake of my meals without any disagreeable feeling either while at the table or afterwards, and gained flesh rapidly. It is now nearly two years since, and I have continued free from anything like a return of the Dyspepsia—I can therefore recommend it to any one suffering in like manner.

"Respectfully yours, ANDREW J. NICHOLSON.
"PITTSBURGH, March 20, 1869."

"This is to certify, that during the early part of the summer of 1868 my wife was much troubled with Dyspepsia. She had a severe pain in her side, her appetite was variable, and she became quite sallow. After having used two bottles of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, her appetite became good, she was relieved from the severe pain in her side, and her complexion became good again, all of which I attribute to the use of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and I have recommended it to all my friends and acquaintances. All that I can do to make its wonderful properties known, you can rest assured will be done. JAMES A. SMITH.
"PITTSBURGH, PA."

If you are suffering do not hesitate to buy a bottle of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and avail yourself of its curative properties.

This is the proper title of the horrible metallic hair dyes. Worse than the fate of Absalom may be the fate of those who use them: ONE WHOLESOME PREPARATION for changing the hair to any desirable shade from brown to jet black may be procured everywhere, viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

After a careful analysis Prof. Chilton, the distinguished Chemist, has authorized the proprietor to declare on his behalf, that it contains nothing deleterious to health. No other hair dye in the world has the like guarantee.

Christadoro's Hair Preservative, as a dressing, acts like a charm on the hair after dyeing. Try it.

To Owners of Horses.

Thousands of horses die yearly from colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a horse should have a bottle in his stable ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of cuts, wind galls, swellings sore throat, sprains, bruises, old sores, &c. This liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 23 years by the first horsemen of the country. Given to an over driven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables of England for it. The celebrated Hiram Woodruff, of trotting fame, used it for years. Col. Philo P. Bushnell of the Jerome race course, has given a certificate which can be seen at the depot, stating that after years of trial, it is the best in the world. His address is Fordham, N. Y. No one once using it will ever be without it. It is put up in pint bottles. Sold by the druggists and saddlers throughout the United States. Depot 10 Park Place, New York.

HAIR RENEWER

RESTORES GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR, PROMOTES ITS GROWTH! AND IS A SPLENDID DRESSING. TRY ONE BOTTLE AND THICKEN UP THE THIN LOCKS!

Is the only perfected and scientifically prepared preparation of its kind ever offered to the public, and has no competitor in merit. By its use GRAY HAIR is soon restored to its original youthful color and brilliancy, which is so much admired by all. Persons whose hair is thin or falling out will, by the use of our Renewer, soon see its good effects, as, by its tonic and stimulating properties the hair glands will be incited and the hair grow thick and strong again. In cases of Baldness it will create a new growth unless the follicles are destroyed. It is cooling, and allays all itching and irritation of the scalp. It does not stain the skin as do dyes, but makes the scalp white and clean. As a DRESSING it is the best and most economical preparation in the world, as its effects last so much longer. Send for our Treatise on the hair, free to all, by mail.

BY LDITH MAY.

Now through the distant vales the fawn's light foot
Leaveth its cloven impress on the snow;
The woods' soft echoes mock the baying hound;
The hunter builds his watch-fire on the hills;
The schoolboy, from his morning task released,
Shoulders his rifle, and goes blithely forth
To start the dusky pheasant from her nest,
Down in the ferny lows. All day long
There is a sound of muffled hoofs, half drown'd
By the quick sleigh-bell that rejoicingly
Rings in the new born monarch all day long
The woodman plies his sharp and sudden axe
Under the crashing branches.
Vale and mead,
And steadfast wave lie stretched beneath my eye,
Clad in one uniform livery. O'er the lake
The skaters flit like shadows, and afar
The wagoner plods beside his smoking team;
The sportsman followed by his frolic hounds
Springs up the breezy hillside. Save for these,
All breathing life alike seems motionless.

The Daily News commenting on President Grant's statement of the Alabama question in his message, he infers that the Americans want indemnity for their feelings rather than for their trade or pockets. This may be given. Diplomacy may oil this international friction and remove a sentimental grievance without compromising British interests or pride. The continental press generally applaud Boutwell's plan for the resumption of specie payments.

BLACK SALVE.—This is an excellent plaster for sores, boils, corns, broken shins, or fingers. Take half lb. mutton tallow, half lb. beeswax, quarter lb. common black pitch, and just melt them together. Melt the beeswax first then the pitch—then the tallow. If you make the beeswax too hot, the pitch will not melt. Stir it well all the time it is melting.

PREPARED GLUE.—A good cement for ready use may be made by dissolving cabinet glue in strong hot vinegar three parts, and alcohol one part, and the addition of a little alum. Keep it in a bottle, well corked, and any broken article about the house may be quickly and firmly mended.

A gentleman traveling on a steamer, one day at dinner, was making way with a large pudding close by, when he was told by a servant that it was a dessert. "It matters not to me," said he, "I should eat it if it were a wilderness."

It is a mark of a generous spirit to aim at what is lofty, to attempt what is arduous and ever to keep in view what is impossible for the most splendid talents to accomplish.—Seneca.

A single English colony has lately bought 30,000 acres of land in Kansas. The tract is to be divided among no fewer than 1,200 families, consisting of well to-do farmers and artisans. German and Swedish colonists have also purchased largely.

ELEPHANT PLOWS.—In India, the elphant is made serviceable before a gigantic plow. The implement is guided by two men, and turns up a huge ridge, and forms a furrow three feet deep by four and a half feet wide at the top. This is the deepest subsoil plowing we have any account of.

It has been ascertained by carefully repeated experiments, that the first drawn milk contains five, the second eight, and the fifth seventeen per cent. of cream. Thus, a cow three quarters milked, is not half milked, if butter is the object.

"Here am I,' said Mr. Cecil, on his death bed, 'leaving this world, like a miser; he counts over his wealth, so do I mine; but here is the difference: his riches are to be left behind, but mine I am going to possess."

GRAHAM BREAD.—Take the unbolted flour of wheat, wet it with lukewarm water, and salt and yeast, knead in enough more of this flour to make it stiff, and a little molasses, and when risen bake in medium sized loaves.

The most easily digested articles of food as yet known are sweet apples baked, cold raw cabbage sliced in vinegar, and boiled rice; the most indigestible are suet, boiled cabbage and pork. The former require an hour the latter five.

The speediest remedy to cure blistered hands and feet is to light a tallow candle and let the tallow drop in cold water then mix the tallow with strong spirits and rub it thoroughly into the palms and soles. This is both a preventive and curative.

A NOBLE ACT.—A wood sawyer, who was piling wood near the railroad track at Edgerville, Ohio, one day last week noticed while standing on the pile as the lightning train approached, a large stick lying on the rail. Without a moment's hesitation, he leaped directly before the train and grasped the stick. At that instant the engine struck him and hurled him some distance forward. He fell to the ground mangled and lifeless, but he had saved the train.

This infallible remedy does not, like the poisonous irritating snuffs and strong caustic solutions with which the people have long been humbugged, simply paliate for a short time, or drive the disease to the lungs, as there is danger of doing in the use of such nostrums, but it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of chronic catarrh, as thousands can testify. Cold in the head is cured with a few applications. Catarrhal headache is relieved and cured as if by magic. It removes offensive breath, loss or impairment of the sense of taste, smell, or hearing, waterfng or weak eyes, and impaired memory, when caused by the violence of catarrh, as they all frequently are. We offer $500 for a case of catarrh that we cannot cure.

Tho' this company has demonstrated time and again the value of life insurance by distributing among the widows and orphans of

175 Members the sum of $500,000.

Yet its losses in proportion to the number insured and amount of insurance has been few and light, according to a compilation from the last published report of the Massachusetts Insurance Commissioner, showing the ratio of claims by death to policies issued during the last 12 months in the leading life insurance companies, thus:

| Name of Company, | Ratio. | Person Ins. |
|---|---|---|
| Mass Mutual | 21 one death in every | 476 |
| N. England Mut. | 20 one do do | 500 |
| Etna | 32 one do do | 313 |
| Connecticut Mut. | 30 one do do | 333 |
| Equitable | 30 one do do | 333 |
| Germania | 41 one do do | 244 |

| North American | 29 one do do | 345 |
| Security | 9 one do do | 1111 |
| American Popular. | 6 one do do | 1668 |

The old companies are ever harping upon the ratio of their expenses and proportion to business done; whereas, to every person seeking insurance the fact that the profit and loss account is very important. Taken together the cost of Insurance depends upon the vitality of the company in which you insure. And the best proof of inherent vitality is the low ratio of claims in the past. Would respectfully inform those interested, that they continue to manufacture at their new stand
RUSSELL'S
Celebrated Premium Separator,
Which is acknowledged to be the best machine for thrashing, separating and cleaning grain now in use. They have, during the past year, perfected an entire new set of patterns for the double pinion horse power, on a larger scale than formerly, which, with a large number of other valuable improvements, make a stronger, more durable, and lighter running power than heretofore. They have also on hand, and will continue to keep Clover Hullers of the most approved construction, the celebrated Michigan Double Plow, together with a general assortment of farming implements, comprising Plows, Cultivators, &c. Their establishment being situated on the Ohio canal, and is in immediate vicinity of the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway, offers facilities by which we can ship our machinery to almost any section of the country. Orders by mail or telegraph promptly filled and letters of inquiry cheerfully answered.

Parties contemplating a purchase will find it materially to their interest to give us their address, and receive a call from one of the agents, who will get an idea of what is desired, and then will take particular pains to SATISFY ALL PURCHASERS,
as to style, prices and terms of payment. This agency can show upwards of Fifty Instruments
now in private houses, within ten miles from this point; some of them having been in constant use for THIRTEEN YEARS, and have never been out of repair. We do not come before the public offering a first class instrument for $50, as we cannot get them. Our instruments have not declined in prices, but on the contrary, have advanced, within the past year five per cent. Our
ROSEWOOD ORGANS AND MELODEON
are veneered with Sawed Cut Veneers. The material is first class in every respect. The tuning is as near perfect as possible. The Beauty of Design and Finish
surpass all others now in market. Persons never having seen our instruments have no idea of the advantages we offer, and should not think of purchasing elsewhere without first consulting us,
Time Payments.
After this date our particular attention is to be devoted to this rule of trade, although considered by many dealers as not very remunerative, yet, having for many years endeavored to favor the industrious working classes with every advantage for procuring instruments and enjoying music at home, we are now determined to perfect this branch of trade, so that the man of moderate means may give his children the advantages of a Musical Education.
Pianos, Organs and Melodeons repaired in a workman like manner by COMPETENT WORKMEN. Old Instruments taken in exchange for new ones at their true value. All instruments delivered
